No	Training Course	Grades	Aims	Course Summary
1	IC English Training Course 1	1 and 2	➢ Teach the new IC grades 1 and 2 materials effectively. ➢ Implement new methodologies and techniques effectively, such as shared reading, phonics, spelling, high frequency words, morning meeting and other child-centred practices. ➢ Support the development of maths and science through English at a simple level. ➢ Use the new assessment procedures appropriately and effectively.	This is a 40 hour training course for teachers teaching in new Integrated Curriculum schools. Teachers will attend an initial four day workshop where they receive a comprehensive introduction to the new IC English curriculum including developing their understanding of the new approach to teaching literacy, teaching maths and science through English and assessment issues. After teachers have been teaching in their schools and have developed some experience of the new IC curriculum, they then meet for a further three workshops that further explore practical issues related to the effective teaching of the new curriculum and creating a more child-centred and child friendly classroom. They also undertake a school exchange programme where they have the opportunity to visit other IC schools and observe and share practice.
2	IC English Training Course 2	3 and 4	➢ Teach the new IC grades 3 and 4 materials effectively. ➢ Implement new methodologies and techniques effectively, such as shared writing and dictation. ➢ Support the development of maths and science through English at a more complex level. ➢ Use the new assessment procedures appropriately and effectively.	This 25 hour course builds on the Integrated Curriculum (IC) grades 1 and 2 training course and aims to develop the teachers' understanding of the challenges and issues in teaching the new IC grades 3 and 4 curriculum; including new approaches to literacy development, the teaching of mathematics and science through English and new assessment procedures. Teachers will attend an initial four day workshop and then a follow up one day workshop.